I AM NOT GUILTY'' SAYS PERKINS

This Is the Answer J. P. Morgan's Partner Makes to Forgery Indictments.

Indictments.

NEW YORK, January 5.—'I am not guilty of the offenses charged against me by the indictments. I did not make the entries in the books of the New York Life Insurance Company specified in the indictments, or any of them; nor was I in any way concerned in the making of such entries; nor did I ald and abet the making of such entries; nor did I, directly or indirectly, counsel, command, induce or procure any other person to make such entries."

George W. Perkins, formerly vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, made this sworn answer today to the charges that he had caused false entries to be made in the company's books to conceal the real nature of some of its stock transactions. These charges form the basis of the six indictments for forgery in the third degree handed down against Mr. Perkins and Charles S, Fairchild a week ago Friday.

NOT THE MAN.

Pittsburg Police Say Powley Is Not the Murderer,

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.) PITTSBURG, PA., January 5. Super-intendent of Detectives Thomas R. Mc-Quaide, to-night, after reading the description of the man Powley, the train robber, arrested and held as Hirsch, the indicted murderer of Capitalist James Agnew McMillan, in this city, several weeks ago, said he was satisfied that the Wrong Inn. was in the currents of the wrong man was in the custody of the Virginia police.

Hirsch is both smaller and heavier than the Virginia suspect. In addition, the scar of Powley's face does not correspond with that which marks Hirsch's features, The local detective bureau is expecting that Hirsch will be arrested somewhere in the West. Detective Elmore, who was about to go to Richmond to look at the prisoner there, has been told to remain in Pittsburg.

BROWN ACKNOWLEDGED PATERNITY OF CHILDREN

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH., January 5.

George P. Hoover, of Washington, who has ben retained in the defense of Mrs. Anna M. Bradley, the slayer of former Senator Arthur Brown, departed for Washington this afternoon, having in his possession a formal written statement, said to have been made by Arthur Brown in 1905, in which the writer acknowledges the paternity of two of Mrs. Bradley's children. Their names are Arthur Brown Bradley and Mark Montgomery Brown Bradley. The statement declares that these "are my children by Anna M. Bradley."

These are the children whom Brown specifically disinherited in his will.

THE HEAVENS IN JANUARY.

By PROF. DOOLITTLE, Astronomer of the University of Pennsylvania.

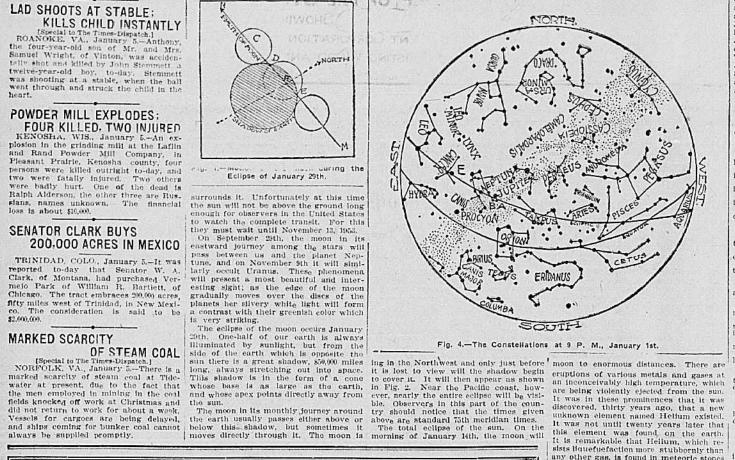

Eclipse of the Moon January 29th Total Eclipse of the Sun January 14th. Capella Now Exactly Overhead. Striking Astronomical Events During 1907.

Eclipse of January 29th.

Several striking astronomical events will occur during the year 197. In the first place, there are two eclipses of the moon, the first parity and the second wholly visible in the United States. Twice also during the year the moon will pass between the earth and the sun, cutting off the light of this body, but neither of these eclipses will be visible here, non of a transit of Mercury will occur.

We' will see this little planet pass between us and the sun as it drifts across the brilliant solar disc. Accurate measurements will then be made off the planets possition, from which its distance and size will be closely studied to learn as much as possible about the atmosphere which is clearly and the sun; the shadow of the moon will then sweep across the swiftly turning earth, and at all points upon which his shadow falls shadow of the moon will occur. The moon will pass along the line M. This will be a made of the planet pass between the earth and the sun; the shadow of the moon will then sweep across the swiftly turning earth, and at all points upon which his shadow falls shadow of the moon will points the moon will occur. The moon will pass along the line M. N. reaching the point R at 38 minutes as mile to moon will not be wholly darkened; a small arc of the shape D E will still be table. Then on November I'th the rare phenomenon of a transit of Mercury will occur.

servation and with its rose colored bands and its four bright moons is a beautiful object. By noticing its position in reference to the two bright stars at A and B. Fig. 4, it will be seen to be moving westward among the stars. By Rebruary 25th it will be perceptibly west of the start at A, its retrograde motion will then cease and it will begin to move rapidly eastward, overtaking and passing Neptune on May 23st.

Neptune may be found a little above and to the west of the star at C, Fig. 4. In a small telescope it can only be recognized by its duli light and its greenish color.

The Stars.

The brilliant star Capella is now exactly overhead, the beautiful little groups of the Pleiades and Hyades are high up from the ground in the South, and below these there is the magnificent Orion, the most beautiful group of the entire sky. The two bright Dog stars, Sirius and Procyon, shine out in the Southeast; above them are the twin stars Castor and Pollux, while just rising is the beautiful group known as Leo, or the Sickle. During this month the observer can best trace out the faint constellations of the Whale, the River and the Dove, nor

The Planets.

Saturn may still be well observed in the early evening, but it is rapidly sinking in the west and will scarcely be visible after this month as an evening star. As my channel attempts this year cost me over $1.50 the association possibly thinks I could have well afforded to sacrifice all. It does not appear to be the best way to encourage swimming when a min who has spent hundreds of dollars on the sport is "turned out," as I am. Singe I have been attempting the task of swimming the channel I have found that it is not all who profess friendship that gre sincere. If I am never reinstated it will not worry me, for after what has happened I am just a little tired of amateurism in the Southern counties. Happily, the channel is still open, although, perhaps, these officials would like to bar me from that My real friends will be glad to hear that I am not down-hearted. But I was not believed, Perhaps it will be interesting for swimmers to know that last swimming season I appeared at twelve galas, for which received the princely sum of $15. The amount of money that I spent in obtaining that $45 was $10. I am a commercial traveler, and several times had to come back from all parts of England and Irodad, once or twice wasting three days of my time. I think you will agree that I have not made a fortune out of it. Now the association can congratulate itself upon having found a victim to their new rule and made an example of a well-known and prominent swimmer.
